

1. Story: The Thirsty Crow

Once upon a time, there was a crow. It was very thirsty. It flew here and there in search of water. It saw a pot in a garden. It went there. It looked into the pot. There was very little water in it. It thought of a plan. It dropped some pebbles one by one into the pot. The water came up. It drank the water and flew away.

Moral: Use your wisdom.

2. Story: The Greedy Dog

Once upon a time, there was a dog. It was very greedy. It found a piece of bread. While it was crossing the river over a bridge, it saw its reflection in the water. It thought there was another dog with a piece of bread in the water. It wanted to take that bread also. It started to bark at him. Its own bread fell down into the water. It was very sad.

Moral: Don't be greedy / Greed is a curse.

3. Story: The Elephant and the Tailor

Once upon a time, there was an elephant. It went daily to a pond to drink water. There was a tailor's shop on the way. The tailor gave it something to eat daily. The elephant was happy with the tailor. One day, the tailor was not at the shop, his son was there. The elephant came to the shop. Instead of giving it something to eat, the son pricked a needle into the elephant's trunk. The elephant was very angry. It went to the pond and filled its trunk with dirty water. It came to the shop and threw the dirty water into the shop. All the clothes became dirty. The tailor was very sad.

Moral: Tit for tat.

4. Story: The Hare and the Tortoise

Once upon a time, there were a hare and a tortoise living in a forest. They were good friends. The hare was proud of his speed. The tortoise challenged the hare to run a race. Finally, the race began. The hare ran very speedily, while the tortoise walked slowly. In the middle of the way, the hare looked back but could not see the tortoise. He thought the tortoise was very far behind, so he decided to take a rest. The hare fell asleep, but the tortoise continued to walk toward the goal. At last, the hare woke up and ran to the goal. He saw that the tortoise had already reached the goal. The hare lost the race.

Moral: Don't be proud.
